~~The Black Obelisk (German: Der schwarze Obelisk) is a novel written in 1956 by the German author Erich Maria Remarque. This novel paints a portrait of Germany in the early 1920s, a period marked by hyperinflation and rising nationalism. Ludwig, the protagonist, is in his mid twenties; just like most of his friends, he is a World War I veteran.~~

THE BLACK OBELISK. A hardened young veteran from the First World War, Ludwig now works for a monument company, selling marble and stone marks to the survivors of deceased loved ones. Though ambivalent about his job, he suspects there's more to life than earning a living off other people's misfortunes. A self-professed poet, Ludwig soon senses a growing change in his fatherland, a brutality brought upon by inflation.

Black Obelisk by Erich-Maria Maria Remarque, Paperback ...

Perhaps in spite of its ample black humour, this book is the most pessimistic of Remarque's work in the sense that he has used the loss of nearly everything as the theme of this literary masterpiece. Yes, nearly everything, because at the end of the book what remains is narrator's kindly remembrance of his friends whom he 'never saw again'.
